

this dataset is from a excel spreadsheet I worked on. Basically, I downloaded the raw data from website then import in to R and set the spreadsheet as df. since I will only use the data from Oklahoma county, so I dropped other counties except the one I need and set this as df1.

the images tell us that what is highest point in number of establishments. the images are help us to have a better understand of the data. these are clearer than the text.